

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation programme under GA No 101004730.

Closing Remark:

The I.FAST Workshop on Stability of Storage Ring Based Light Sources

KARA Large Seminar Room, KIT, Karlsruhe

Online: Zoom Meeting Session

19 March 2025

Akira Mochihashi, I.FAST Task 7.2 / KIT - IBPT

iFAST

Brief Summary: Stability Workshop

- Spatial source position stability ... Sub-micro meters
- New technology ... FOFB, permanent magnets, girders etc.
- Hardware development ... Sharing information and knowledge, standardization, keeping characteristics of each institute
- Synergy and innovation ... Between research and industrial areas, different research areas, different institutes...

Workshop Statistics

- The number of registered participants worldwide:
Onsite: 52, Online: 34 ... In total: 86
- Number of talks: 26
- The participants from a variety of research fields

Words of Thanks

- The workshop has been organized jointly with Synchrotron SOLEIL in France and KIT.
- The partners of the I.FAST Task 7.2 have strongly supported the scientific organization of the workshop.
- All session chairs did an excellent job of leading the sessions and the discussions that followed.

Thank you for all your contributions, support and understanding in organizing the workshop!

Words of Thanks

- The workshop was successfully organized with the support of local organizations.

Leyla Johim, Deniz Birli, Robert Ruprecht,
Edmund Blomley, Julian Gethmann, Marcel Schuh
...and all other people related to the local organization

Thank you for all your supporting the workshop organization!

Networking ...

- Networking seems to be a kind of infra-structure.
- If it works, nobody notices. If it doesn't work, it's really problematic.

Announcement

- To the speakers:
  - Please submit your abstract. The abstract will be summarized and submitted to the I.FAST project office as an official I.FAST project report.

Thank you for your contribution!

... and see you soon!